This volume originally published in French under the title Que faire du Capital offers a new interpretation of Marx's great work. It shows how the novelty and lasting interest of Marx's theory arises from the fact that as against the project of a 'pure' economics it is formulated in concepts that have simultaneously an economic and a political aspect, neither of these being separable from the other. Jacques Bidet conducts an unp... About the Author: Jacques Bidet is Professor at the University of Paris X, holding the chair of Political Philosophy and Theories of Society. His other publications include Theorie de la modernite (1990), John Rawls et la theorie de la justice.
