Henri Lefebvre's magnum opus a monumental exploration of contemporary society Henri Lefebvre's three volume Critique of Everyday Life is perhaps the richest most prescient work by one of the twentieth century's greatest philosophers. Written at the birth of post-war consumerism the Critique was a philosophical inspiration for the 1968 student revolution in France and is considered to be the founding text of all that we know as "A savage critique of consumerist society" — Publishers Weekly "One of the great French intellectual activists of the twentieth century" — David Harvey "The last great classical philosopher" — Fred
